Be Kind to Animals Week

Week of April 19-25 to be Observed Naturally

The following article is written by Florence E. Mixer, secretary of the North Fryeburg Board of Mercy.

April 19-25 is National Be Kind to Animals Week, and the American Humane Education Society is asking pastors, teachers, Sunday Schools, and other organizations to give it some special observance.

There is an impression that since motor trucks have largely taken the place of horses that there is no more work for the humane societies, but that is far from the case.

Cattle and dogs, suffering from the carelessness or ignorance of their owners, stray cats, and birds and animals of the woods are still crying out for protection.

In observing this Week, the schools will only be carrying out Chapter 19, Sec. 124 of the Public Laws of Maine, which reads in part: "All teachers in the public schools of the state shall devote not less than one-half hour of each week of the school term to teaching the children under their charge in correlation with other studies of the school curriculum, the great principles of humanity as illustrated by kindness to birds and animals and regard for all forms of life."

To take time to the well being of man." To take time for teaching kindness to animals is not only allowed, but required in the public schools.

In schools which have already formed Bands of Mercy, the Bands may well take charge of the observance. In other schools how could the Week be observed better than by organizing a Band of Mercy with the attendant signing of the pledge, "I will try to be kind to all living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage?"

Children like the club idea, and a Band of Mercy may be made as elaborate or as simple as is desired.

The Bands may have regular meetings, but these are not required.

A booklet "How to Form Bands of Mercy" may be obtained without cost from the American Humane Education Society, 150 Longwood Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts. Members are enrolled simply by signing the above pledge. However, attractive pledge cards may be obtained from the Society, also Be Kind to Animals and Star Bands of Mercy.

It adds greatly to the interest to have the pledge cards and one kind of buttons when the Band is formed. To each Band with at least thirty members, children or adults or both, the American Humane Education Society will send its monthly periodical, "Our Dumb Animals," for one year and a quantity of other material, including an initiation gold badge for the president. All that the Band has to do to get this material is to send to the Society at the above address the name and address of the Band, the president, and the secretary.

Bands of Mercy may also be formed by Sunday Schools or any interested person. Let's make Be Kind to Animals Week mean something in Oxford County!

The same force fashioned the sparrow that fashioned the man, the king, the God of the whole game, a mark of soul to furred and feathered thing: "And I am my brother's keeper. And I will fight his fight. And I will speak the word for beast and bird. Till the world shall set things right."

PROPOSED HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

The Maine State Highway Commission has furnished the legislators an outline of work contemplated in the so called four-year highway program. Sections on thirty routes enter into the plan for the construction of concrete pavement and bridges and vituminous macadam and gravel roads.

Of local interest is Route 18, where it is proposed to build 1.25 miles of bituminous macadam road in Fryeburg near the Saco River.

A similar highway for Route 26 is mentioned between Shaker Hill in Poland to the concrete pavement near Welchville in Oxford. This will give a hard surfaced road from Portland by way of Gray to Norway and West Paris.

On Route 105 the completion of the road to the Peru-Mexico bridge by construction in Peru is mentioned.

Closing the gap between Auburn and Route 26, at Welchville for a firm surface into Norway and through Paris and Bethel to the White Mountains is an important item.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

"Jimmy" Steward returned to the shop Monday, after an absence of six weeks on account of surgery and the after effects.

It seems late, but many small brooks are still flowing. What he says is that the high water and surrounding snow banks.

Three old and other "runt" ball games were played on back lots. Too much snow is holding back the game. A foot of snow disappears from the diamond at the fair grounds.

At the office we have for sale white and colored table cloths at public sale and for decorating. Just the thing for dining room drawers and the kitchen shelves.

Mr. J. H. Hosmer has been appointed to the office of judge in the Penobscot county. What he says is that he will decide the time of the trial of the case of Stone's or Ashcroft's.

Arthur Morse says: "It does pay to advertise. I inserted an ad. in the Inquirer for the return of a lost dog. On my way home from the village I found the dog behind a fence on the road."

Reginald H. Hays, who hangs his hat in the hall, sent greetings on a card to T. J. B. C. C. Mexico, who is transacting business and working. The message says: "I hope to see you in a few days without aid of plane."

The seating capacity of Norway High School has been definitely settled by the W. W. Lyon, who counts 265 as the seating capacity. He has drafted a plan to check up on seats for his class. "The Old Fashioned Mother," who says many more can be accommodated in the dining room in the back of the hall and entry is accepted.

Set for comments, heard and seen or some other column: "I have read in your paper about the boys being so rough and sassy. They are everywhere and I feel sorry for them. I think they have a right to be. I am just telling what I see. I am not saying that they are all like that. I am just telling what I see. I am not saying that they are all like that. I am just telling what I see."

"Things are going to make a mighty change within the next fifteen years. If you and I are here just to get attention to it. The man that thinks he is aging is old. It is a foot and the man that don't think at all is a damn fool. Just the same: 'Little bit of wit, a little grain of sand, make the difference. And the pleasant land.' Just the same as they always have been, and it is this same public that Hamilton called a 'damn beast' that is going to do it. We must be interested to see it done right."

"I have six grandchildren and am unable to have more, and I don't want them or their children to have a chance to say that their old grandpa didn't dare to stand up and fight for what he believed to be for the public welfare, and to hell with the consequences."

"P. S. You see I double spaced this. It isn't for publication. It ain't worth the paper."

Set for comments, heard and seen or some other column: "I have read in your paper about the boys being so rough and sassy. They are everywhere and I feel sorry for them. I think they have a right to be. I am just telling what I see. I am not saying that they are all like that. I am just telling what I see. I am not saying that they are all like that. I am just telling what I see."

"But in any town, especially the village—you take the boys from nine to sixteen and there's only now and then a few that are any respect for anyone or anything. They will snow ball the tiny kids or the ladies, an old man or a pair of horses, throw their snow balls into a public and splash everyone for rods and think they are smart. They do not have any idea what qualities it takes to make a gentleman nor have any idea what the word decency means."

"Probably the readers wonder if I am any boys and if they are angels. Yes, I have three and they do enjoy mischief, but if I knew of their doing such stunts I'd do my best to help their memories with a blister on their pants, just for their sakes. I think the biggest trouble the boys with their parents as they never find anything for them to do to pass away the time or take up their minds. They are just turned loose with the cats and dogs, and never made to obey. They go to school and those that are the most 'up to the minute' are always the worst. They are saucy and hateful in school and just make life miserable for the best of teachers—teachers must not strike a child here nor there and as they go from bad to worse and every year raise a little more until they are a disgrace to themselves and everyone else, just because mother has too many parties to see to it to use the window stick and father has to tinker the car and is don't take so long to give Jimmy a quarter to spend as it would to ply the razor strap a few times."

NORTH WATERFORD
Attended Services at East Stoneham—Fellowship Supper Held.

There were forty from here who attended church services at East Stoneham, Sunday morning to listen to the very interesting talk given by Mrs. Robert McClure, who has been a missionary several years in China and Japan, teaching there; she explained their ways of living and belief.

The Apple Packing Bill

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

The Committee on Agriculture at Annapolis has reported "Ought to pass in new draft" on our apple packing bill. I have just received a copy of the bill and it is a jokers I never have seen such a thing. This proposed measure adds to the available brands that may be used by growers and shippers that are not the beneficiaries of fortune or special privilege. It also prevents the exclusion of the privileges that are permitted under the Federal Law.

All intelligent people know that ruin has come to our apple business by the thousands that have been forced upon us by artificial influences acting through the control in politics. They also know that the growers and dealers with the exception of a very few that from some reason are not apparent to the general observation, at least think themselves beneficiaries of the present conditions.

How can this thing be carried on as it is at the present time? I may be all wrong, but here is the way I have it in mind from what I have been able to see and understand in the business. When I saw of the Agricultural Committee did not look like real farmers. There was only a small number of them that heard the case for the apple bill and I was only acquainted with one of them, that was Mr. Towle, the apple buyer who has a connection with a western concern that seems to have favor with the powers that control in apple circles. I know that he was a farmer or in touch with agriculture.

While Mr. Washburn, our Commissioner of Agriculture has proclaimed himself neutral in this matter I am afraid that the friends understand that his heart is not with the apple growers that ask to be heard from the conditions that we have here. He has been instrumental in accomplishing the ruin of our industry. The delegation from Oxford County, so far as I know, are solid for the amendment that we ask for.

We are asking for an amendment to be added to our legislation that will remedy the conditions and give to the apple growers and dealers of Maine the same privileges that are allowed us under the Federal Law. Should this privilege be denied us I believe it will be the general feeling that my apprehensions concerning our Department of Agriculture and Mr. Towle are too too grounded.

In a public meeting this winter a man that is in very close touch with these matters in Augusta declared that "Everything in Augusta was Politics" and in response to a mild protest he made the same declaration most emphatically.

I wonder if "Politics" and Mr. Towle's personal ambitions in the apple business can have anything to do with perpetuating the troubles of the apple growers and dealers that are not on the inside in these matters? It seems to me that we are about to get some quite important evidence in regard to that matter.

WATERFORD

Mrs. Louis Higginson celebrated her ninetieth birthday on March 21st, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. May Gaston, in Boston. Mrs. Higginson was well remembered with gifts, cards and letters. Eighteen members of the family were present at this birthday celebration and when Mrs. Higginson arrived, she was completely surprised to find the guests dressed in costumes, representing the fashions of ninety years ago. The costumes were very beautiful. Mrs. Higginson was born in Waterford and spends her summers at her lovely home here, known as the "Artemus Ward Place."

Mrs. Higginson is a relative of this famous writer.

Bridgton Academy is having a vacation and the Waterford students are at their homes. Those who make the daily trip to school by auto, are grateful for a vacation at this time, as the roads are almost impassable for autos.

Mrs. L. R. Rounds has returned from a visit to Portland. Miss Ruth Rounds is enjoying a vacation from Bates College and spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rounds.

The snow has been melting and some maple trees tapped and are having a good time gathering sap.

On Saturday, the patrolman dragged the road through here, making the village street the "good old summer time" and the contrast between the street and the high banks of snow on either side was very novel. Saturday night we were reminded that winter is not yet over, by a fall of ice inches or so of soft snow. This turned to a pouring rain on Sunday, making the roads very muddy, but helping to take the frost out of the ground.

So far no straw hats have been seen on our streets, but robins, chipmunks and gray squirrels have made their appearance and crows are numerous and very tame.

EAST STONEHAM

Young Ladies Gave Party—Supper Guests at McAllister's—Repairs at Hall.

Vesta Barker and Mary Priddy gave a party at Miss Vesta's home, Friday evening. ALBANY

MRS. ANGIE C. BEAN

Relatives of Mrs. Angie Cummings Bean received word of her death, which occurred Friday morning, March 13th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David E. Burnham of North Andover, Mass.

Mrs. Bean had been in poor health for several years, but has been able to be about the house every day. She was born at Albany, Me., Jan. 14, 1846, the daughter of Leonard and Mary Pingree Cummings and has always lived in her native town, except for winters spent with her daughter at North Andover, Mass., since the death of her husband.

In young womanhood she was united in marriage with Amos G. Bean of Albany, who passed away Sept. 23, 1921. She was a member of the Congregational church at Albany and prominent in all its activities; a member of the Ladies' Sewing Circle, serving as president, devoting both time and strength in the interest of the church work and was a charter member of Round Mountain Grange.

Mrs. Bean was highly respected. She had a genial disposition and a cheerful outlook upon life. She was a neighbor and friend to all who came in contact with her.

She is survived by three sons, Herbert I. Bean of Bethel, Amos L. Bean of Danvers, Mass., Perry A. Bean of Danvers, Col., one daughter, Mrs. D. E. Burnham, North Andover, Mass., three sisters, Mrs. Roxie French of Oxford, Miss Anna Cummings and Mrs. Ella M. Gould of Lewiston, one brother, L. N. Cummings of Melrose, Mass., fourteen grandchildren, and six great grandchildren.

Burial was in the Hunt's Corner cemetery, Albany.

MARCH TEMPERATURE

With an average of 23.27 degrees, the month just past goes into the local records as giving the highest morning temperature covering a period of eight years. John Wright gets his readings at 8 A. M. and passes along the information that March has behaved like a good boy with out cold, windy mornings or much rough weather. The morning average is five degrees warmer than the record made in 1920, with below zero and near zero the rule.

Not a zero or sub-zero morning this past month. The range was from 4 to 34, with few abrupt variations. Except for the 3rd and 7th the mornings were much like November, generally below freezing, but not uncomfortable. March came in and went out like a lamb. This smashed the old saw about a lion opening or closing the program.

Following is a schedule of temperature at 6 A. M. for a five year period:

SOUTH PARIS—OXFORD PARK

Mrs. Everett York of Otisfield and Mrs. Charles Howard of South Paris called on Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Walker, Wednesday.

Nearly sixty years ago, she married Orrin Q. Libby and moved into the Mountain Neighborhood and has resided here ever since.

She lost her husband thirty years or more ago and although she was in the best of health, has labored both early and late, faithfully and well, and has brought up a family of four children: Fannie, wife of John Bevis of Charlestown, Mass., Lloyd, who is married and lives in Denmark, Dana and Ralph, who reside on the home farm. She will certainly be sadly missed. She was a member of the Rebekahs, Eastern Star and East Fryburg Grange, all of which were well represented at the funeral.

Rev. Hoyt was a dinner guest, Wednesday, at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lord's.

Millard Sanborn has a new evaporator to replace the one burned last spring.

There was a big turn out at the Grange meeting, Friday evening. William H. Berry gave an interesting talk on his trip of the past three months to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, several places in Georgia, also St. Augustine, St. Petersburg, Miami, Palm Beach, and many other places in Florida.

There were six members of Pausus Grange present. The berries are coming back to Edgewood Farm Inn and Wm. J. Berry, who has been for some time in Florida, is having a vacation of two weeks from Rates.

The Academy students are at home for a ten days vacation.

GREENWOOD—ROWE HILL

Sunday's rain settled the snow and carried it off. There does not seem to be as much frost in the ground as last year at this time.

The men are still shoveling snow on Rowe Hill near Del Howe's place; it is three feet in some places at present.

Mrs. Ernest Brooks is better, but still in very poor health. Mrs. Georgia Hall, who has been working for her has gone back to Lewiston to work.

Mrs. Hall has gone from Mont Brooks', where she has been for some time, to Lewiston to work.

Mrs. Bert Allen visited her sister, Mrs. Mont Brooks, one day last week.

Mrs. Margaret Bryant is gaining. She was remembered on her birthday, March 28, with a post card shower, receiving twenty-one cards and letters, also useful presents, all of which were very much appreciated as was the kindness shown by the neighbors, who certainly showed a true neighborly spirit in several different ways.

Winifred Bryant, Norma Ring, Carl Brooks, Ethel and Glenwood Libby are enjoying a week's vacation from Woodstock high school.

Miss Vera Dunham visited her sisters at Greenwood Center last Thursday.

Mrs. Stella Ring spent Tuesday at Bryant Pond.

Joe Duttall of Danville called on his sister, Mrs. Libby, last week.

John Hall of East Oxford is very ill.

Miss Eleanor Hall is at home from school for a two weeks vacation. Miss Lilyrose Daniels is also having a two weeks' vacation from Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Jackson were in Oxford, Thursday, shopping, and calling on friends.

Reverend Commissioner Floyd Felton, of East Oxford, has a crew of men working on the road from Oxford Station to Welchville.

Reverend Father Frit was in Welchville, Monday, calling on friends.
